Lord teach us how to pray...

On many occasions Jesus withdrew from the crowds to pray. Sometimes alone and sometimes with His disciples.

He taught His disciples, and us, how to pray, saying when you pray say “Our Father...”

Prayer is the bedrock of our faith, our communication with God, committing to Him our hopes, fears and plans – BEFORE we make decisions.

Lots of people within our church pray regularly and faithfully, both for our ministry and the wider needs of individuals and the world, but, with the exception of the monthly prayer group there is at present no opportunity for us to pray together, nor to encourage each other in prayer, other than our weekly services.

To encourage us to pray together more frequently and to help each other to grow in prayer over the next few months we will be making the following opportunities available:

† Commencing on 5 February, we will start a weekly Church Prayer Meeting focusing on Church and Ministry – to meet on Monday evenings at the vicarage from 7pm until 7.45pm. This will operate alongside the monthly Tuesday night prayer group and not replace it.

† We will join with other churches in Mottram, Longdentale and Glossop to meet for prayer every Wednesday morning in Lent from 7.30am to 8.15am followed by breakfast. Meeting each week at a different participating church. The meeting on 28 February will be at St Michael’s.

† In May we’ll be concentrating our preaching/teaching on prayer, with the opportunity for prolonged periods of prayer and participating in the Archbishops initiative on evangelism “Thy Kingdom Come”. Through this, bringing various groups together in prayer with contributions from the Sunday School, Youth Group, and Monthly Prayer Group – helping families and individuals young and old to pray together.

† Our prayer/healing ministry that currently takes place during or after the 10.30am service on 2nd and 3rd Sundays of the month, will be extended to be available after every 10.30am service. In order to do this we shall need to extend the team.

If you’d like to help, please contact me – prayer@mottramparish.org.uk or 01457 857331.

All we need now is to pray.....

BIBLE BOOK CLUB

Getting to know the Bible, one book at a time...

Ever wanted to get to know the Bible a little better? Or fancied joining a book club? Why not join our Bible Book Club until Easter?

We'll read the same book of the Bible at home, then meet once a month in small groups (say, 4-6 people) to discuss what we've found. It's not a structured study, but a chance for general discussion. And then, the next month we'll pick another book and read that.

Everyone will be in the same boat - we'll all have read the same thing - but no doubt we'll all come with our own questions and comments.

The sessions won't have a 'leader' as such - it's just a conversation - though the host will be supplied with a couple of opening questions to ask to get the conversation started.

If you'd like to join a group, then you can contact the hosts directly, using the details opposite.

The Groups meet monthly:

Monday afternoons from 2pm
starting 29th January

at the home of Peter and Jean Hey with Allen Standeven: 01457 857331

Monday evenings from 8pm

Meals & Wheels & Bibles

At our 10.30am service on 21st January, we heard about three new mission-inspired initiatives in Mottram Parish. We hope you'll feel able to support at least one of these ventures with time or money, as we work to bring God's love out of church and into the community...

Freezer Ministry

We're starting a new scheme to help people who are recently bereaved, or just returned from hospital, or suffering from some other acute crisis in their lives.

We're just about to order an upright freezer. This will be stocked with homemade frozen meals, ready to be delivered at short notice to someone in need.

How can I help?

✓ We need someone to 'host' the freezer – do you have a space in your house or garage where the freezer can be situated? You'll need to check the temperature regularly, keep the stock in order, and send out requests for more pies and puddings to keep the freezer full and 'ready to go'.

✓ If cooking is your passion, then could you join the list of people preparing the food? We'll let you have a list of what's required.

If you can help with this, please contact our Parish Development Worker Ruth Montgomery on 01457 766173 or ruthmontgomery@mottramparish.org.uk

LOVE IN ACTION

A Bible for every Child

We want to make sure that every child in our parish has their very own Bible.

We'll do this by giving one, firstly to every child in years 3 to 6 at each of our Primary Schools in Broadbottom, Hattersley and Mottram. Then each year, we'll give a Bible to each new child as they enter year 3.

How can I help?

✓ Each Bible costs around £10 - can you sponsor one or more children?

If you can help with this, please contact Adele Boothroyd on 01457 763770 or adeleboothroyd@mottramparish.org.uk

Car Pool

Another way to help those in need – this time with transport.

We all know how difficult it is to get to hospital or other appointments if you have no car. And sometimes, even though you have a car, you might be advised not to drive after a particular medical procedure.

How can I help?

✓ We need a pool of drivers – the more the merrier – who we can call on every now and then to give someone a much needed lift.

✓ If you're an organiser, rather than a driver, then could you be the person who keeps the list of drivers and matches requests to drivers?

Please contact Ruth, as above.

Churches Together Prayer Meetings

We are joining with other churches in Mottram, Longdendale and Glossop to pray on Wednesday mornings in Lent, 7.30am to 8.15am followed by breakfast. Each week will be at a different church. The first meeting will be on 14th February – venue to be advised. The meeting on 28 February will be here at St Michael's.

Rodney's Daft Jokes Page

Note: Laughing traditionally starts long before the punchline...

Silence!

At the monastery of St Joseph's it was traditional that all novices would remain silent for the first year. At which point the novice was allowed to ask one question, before remaining silent for a further year, when they could ask a second question and so on...

One night there was a knock at the door, and a man stood there. He said "My name is James, and...". Father Abbot explains the silence rule, and shows him to a room.

A year passed, and Father Abbot sent for the man and addressed him:

"Brother James, you have been here for 12 months now, you have learned our ways by observing us in silence, you have now earned the right to ask one question.... Now think carefully, you have only one question until next year..."

The man replied, "Where's your gas meter? I'm from the gas board and have come to read the meter!"

More Silence!

Same deal, as above but this time father Abbot sends for Brother Bill.

"Brother Bill, you have been here for 12 months now, you have learned our ways by observing us in silence, you have now earned the right to ask one question.... Now think carefully, you have only one question until next year..."

Brother Bill replies: "My question is can I have poached eggs for breakfast

Henpecked?

There were two gates in heaven. One gate had the sign over it saying, "For men whose wives ruled over them." The other had a sign saying, "For men who were the head of their house."

The line for the men who had been dominated by their wives was as long as the eye could see. The other line only had one man standing there.

St. Peter asked the man, "Why are you the only man standing in this line?" The man said, "I don't know – my wife told me to stand here."

as I don't like porridge...."

Father Abbot agrees and the second year of silence begins... At year two he says

"Brother Bill, you have been here for 2 years now, you have learned our ways by observing us in silence, you have now earned the right to ask one question.... Now think carefully, you have only one question until next year..."

Brother Bill says: "Can I have some salt on my eggs in the morning, I don't like eggs without salt?"

Father Abbot agrees and the last year of the probationary period starts in silence. At the end of the year Father abbot says,

"Brother Bill, you have been here for 3 years now, you have learned our ways by observing us in silence, you have now earned the right to ask one question....

Brother Bill asks, "Can I have toast with my eggs, they really are a bit runny without toast.."

Father Abbot says, "I'm sorry Brother Bill, I really don't think that you are cut out for this life.... You have done nothing but complain since you got here!!!!"

The God who befriends...

Nell Goddard of the London Institute for Contemporary Christianity considers what real friendship can mean...

Better is open rebuke than hidden love. Wounds from a friend can be trusted, but an enemy multiplies kisses. Proverbs 27:5-6

As iron sharpens iron, so one person sharpens another. Proverbs 27:17

I remember it really clearly: stood in the kitchen of my student house, clutching a cup of tea, and being told – in no uncertain terms – that I needed to be kinder with my words. The deliverer of this stark truth was someone I had met only once before, but who had been invited for dinner by one of my housemates.

In that moment, I knew three things:

Firstly, I was cross. What right did this person have to offer up opinions and rebuke me when they'd only just met me?

Secondly, they were right: I frequently used words as weapons rather than gifts, and they weren't the first person to call me out on it. But – strangely enough – they were the first person I listened to.

Thirdly, we were going to be friends. This realisation surprised me, but I knew it with a deep certainty. And I was right – three years later, they're one of my closest friends.

This story is a worked example of these proverbs, and an illustration of how friendship isn't meant to be consistently comfortable and cosy. True friendship does not shrink from correcting the friend – after all, iron cannot sharpen iron unless forceful contact is made.

These proverbs assume that a friend persists and does not shy away from constructive criticism. Such criticism is done in a way which is open and direct, remaining caring and completely concerned with the best interests of the addressee. Does this ring true for your friendships? Or does it present you with a challenge?

Friendship is a key part of life and so, for the Christian, a key part of discipleship. Through friendship, God teaches us about others, about community, and about Himself. After all, He is the God who calls us friend.

So, what does it mean to be a friend? Each friendship will take a different form, depending on the people engaging in it. Colleagues, family, fellow parents, study partners... wherever we are, whatever we're doing, friends will most likely play a part.

Friendships are significant, presenting us with opportunities for both evangelism and discipleship, as well as for learning more about God, and they are a part of life where we can see God working powerfully – in us and through us, every day.
