

A Letter from the Booking Secretary

How many can you fit in???

Musings from the Booking Secretary!

It's been lovely to be able to chat to people when they've rung me to book their seats for Sunday Worship - but one question I am often asked is "how many can you fit in?" Well... you might well ask!

To ensure social distancing it depends on just who books in.

The pews in the nave can take 2 single people, a couple or a family. But we have large stone pillars abutting some of these pews so where that occurs it's better for people who can sit close together - although some couples tell me they still sit as far apart as possible but I won't comment on that!

Then there is the South Aisle - much smaller pews so just 1 single person, a couple (and here I hope they do get on!) or a couple with a small child.

So it's roughly around 65 for the 10.30am - give or take a person or two!

The 8.30am is easier as fewer people like to get up early!

But please don't think this is an onerous task - it's a joy and a privilege to be able to squeeze you all in - even with all the crossings out and moving people around on the seating plan! and my thanks to those of you who willingly give up your seats when asked to let someone else attend worship.

Stay safe everyone!
